

CETA

Prospects for Financial Services Industry

September 19, 2017

Don Campbell

CETA: What is the Agreement?

- Gold Standard Economic Partnership Agreement between Canada and European Union
- Most Comprehensive agreement ever negotiated
 - model for future agreements
- Agreement between prosperous developed consumer societies with similar approaches to rule of law, democracy and importance of role of governance

CETA: Implementation

- September 21, 2017 provisionally in effect
 - over 90% of agreement in full effect
- EU Council and EU Parliament have approved
- Canada – Order in Council implementation enacted August 31, 2016
- Provisional because some competence remains with member states
 - 28 States must ratify
 - outstanding implementation issues concern dispute settlement provisions and affect financial services

CETA: Importance of Agreement

CETA: Importance of Agreement

CETA: Importance of Agreement

- Canada's second largest trading partner
- EU market – 500 million population
 - over CAD$17 trillion
 - World's second largest services market
 - World's largest importer of services
- Foreign Direct Investment (FDI)
 - Canadian FDI in EU CAD$210 billion
 - 21% of total Canadian FDI abroad
 - EU FDI in Canada CAD$242 billion
 - 31% of total FDI in Canada
- British Columbia – EU 5th largest destination for exports
 - 4th largest trading partner
- Up to 20% trade boost over time

CETA: Scope of Agreement

- Very broad, comprehensive coverage
 - 98% of tariffs and many non-barriers eliminated
 - investment, cross border trade and services, temporary entry and stay of natural persons for business reasons, mutual recognition of professional qualifications and domestic regulation
 - separate chapter on financial services
 - procurement including provisions and sub-regional entities
 - e-commerce, labour, environment, sustainable development
 - dispute settlement provisions break new ground

CETA: Importance of Services

- Over 70% of GDP of both EU and Canada generated by services
- Canadian services exports to EU approximately CAD$18 billion
- EU services exports to Canada approximately CAD$24 billion - financial services significant
- Services will achieve greater share of trade relationship

CETA: Importance of Services

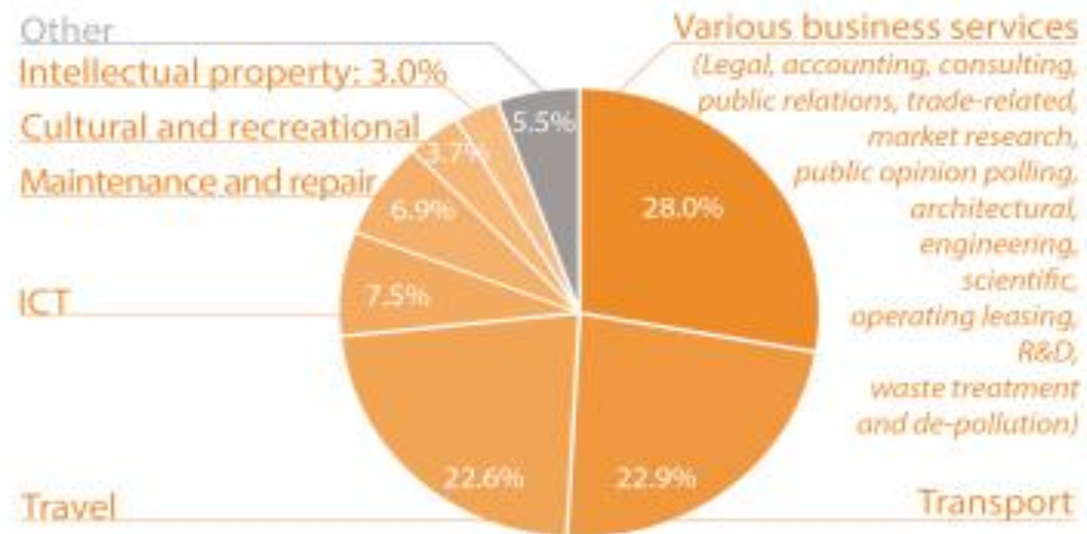

EU exports of services to Canada (2015)

EPRS | European Parliamentary Research Service

CETA: Importance of Services

EU imports of services from Canada (2015)

ELI | European University Institute

CETA: Financial Services Chapter 13

- Basic aim – liberalize trade and investment in financial services and at the same time insure effective prudential regulation of markets and players
- Provisions mostly aligned with the General Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS)
 - national treatment
 - MFN treatment
 - market access
 - transparent regulation
- CETA confirms present undertakings, ensures no roll back and sets stage for future

CETA: Financial Services

- Market Access

- no limitations on number of financial institutions
- no limit on total value of assets of financial institutions
- no limit on number of financial services operations by a firm
- no limit on level of foreign investment in a firm
- no limit on number of employees
- no limit on types of business ventures and large entities a firm may operate

CETA: Financial Services

- Restricted to:
 - Insurance and insurance related risks
 - Banking and other services
 - Portfolio management services
- Specific coverage varies with individual states and Canadian Provinces – exemptions spelled out in Annexes
- A work in progress

CETA: Financial Services

- Movement and stay of personnel
 - inter-corporate transfers of professional staff and families can now be made for up to 3 years
 - contractual service providers can now reside in each other's territory for up to 12 months per 24 month period

CETA: Financial Services

- No significant change from current practice yet but baseline established
- Financial Services Committee created to supervise Chapter 15 implementation
 - dispute resolution
 - dialogue on respective practices
 - commitment to negotiation within three years performance requirements constitute fairness for investment

CETA: Prudential Carve Out

- Canada and EU agreed to take reasonable prudential measures to:
 - protect investors' deposits and policy holders
 - maintain safety, soundness and financial responsibility of financial institutions
 - maintain stability and integrity of financial system
- Regulations must no more burdensome than necessary
 - may be subject to a “necessity” test not yet defined

CETA: Dispute Settlement

- State to State
 - general dispute settlement provisions with arbitration panels to govern disputes between parties applies
 - for financial services a separate list of arbitrators with relevant experience and expertise
- Investor State (ISDS)
 - financial services process generally follows process in rest of agreement except prudential carve out may come into play as a defence

CETA: Brexit

- Disruptive impact on Canada significant
 - UK accounts for 40% of Canadian exports to EU
 - London is the major financial centre
 - shape of divorce not yet clear
- New EU Trade Agreement to be negotiated
 - Canada-EU MFN clauses could come into play
- Canada willing to do Canada-UK bilateral trade agreement
 - UK prevented from negotiating before termination of EU relationship
- “A BLOODY MESS”

CETA: Conclusions

- Important Milestone in Canada-EU relationship
- Canada – with CETA and NAFTA in unique position – first mover advantage
- Architecture in place for new era for trade and investment
- Financial services – Medium and longer term benefit
 - EU needs to continue work in creation of single market
 - Canada needs to move on internal free trade
- Agreement preserves governments' ability to provide effective prudential regulation to protect markets and system
- At firm level significant opportunities - companies need to identify targets and develop strategies to move in on markets